

Ethical Decision-Making for Governmental Employees (Republic of the Marshall Islands)

 1 Day In-Person Course

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Are you faced with tough decisions about how to handle sensitive situations in your mission? Explore the ethical hazards and dilemmas facing officials and review methods of analyzing and resolving them in this participative workshop. Come away with a skill set for dealing with the common, right vs. wrong hazards (temptations) and the more difficult right vs. right conflicts or dilemmas that auditors face. Also, learn ways to mitigate the risks, fortify the courage associated with carrying out ethical decisions, and review how to integrate effective ethics control systems into an organization.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

After the successful completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Anticipate and recognize ethical dilemmas as well as distinguish right vs. wrong temptations from the right vs. right ethical hazards and dilemmas that officials face in their work
- Select, describe and use the appropriate ethical decision-making process from a survey of widely accepted models
- Describe the causes of unethical behavior and methods of discouraging that behavior
- Mitigate the internal and external inhibitors to carrying out decisions when there are potential risks involved
- Help establish an ethics control system in an organization

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This course is designed for decision-makers, such as finance and financial management officers and action officials in the Republic of the Marshall Islands.
