

Introduction to Governmental Accounting & Reporting

U.S. Virgin Islands

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This 5-day virtual course is an introductory course for participants with little or no knowledge of governmental accounting. It provides an overview of governmental accounting systems and includes a basic introduction to accounting principles, internal controls, and documentation requirements. It is helpful for participants who have completed a college accounting course but have found it difficult to transfer that knowledge into a heavily computerized environment. In-class exercises enable participants to record journal entries, post them to the general ledger, and prepare financial statements. Note: This course "builds" from each day to the next. Participants should plan to attend the entire course or risk becoming lost because they have skipped a session.

The structure of this course calls for 3-hour daily virtual sessions over a five-day period.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

After successful completion of this course, participants will be able to:

1. Practice the basic elements of double-entry bookkeeping in posting transactions to T-accounts, journals and ledgers.
2. Follow transactions through the entire accounting cycle, from analyzing, recording, posting, drawing a trial balance, and constructing financial statements.
3. Understand basic concepts of internal control as they apply to the accounting cycle and good accounting practice.
4. Understand unique features of governmental accounting including the use of funds.
5. Read and understand the financial statements.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Personnel from the U.S. Virgin Islands governmental departments and agencies, component units, universities, and non-profit organizations including accountants, grant and program managers, procurement, budget and administrative staff.

TUITION FEES

With funding support from the United States Department of the Interior, Office of Insular Affairs, courses are available free of charge for government accountability professionals within the insular areas. The course fee is waived and there is no cost to register and attend. Professionals who do not meet the above criteria, please contact info@pitiviti.org.
